NEWSLETTER N1

ETI_CHEF. Respect in Every Bite Building a More Conscious Food Culture

Welcome to the first edition of the ETI_CHEF newsletter! ETI_CHEF is an Erasmus+ project dedicated to promoting ethical food communication and empowering young people to make more informed, conscious and responsible food choices. Since the project began in November 2025, partners from Italy, Spain, Slovenia and France have been working together to develop innovative educational tools—including a Manifesto, interactive workshops, a virtual Escape Room and a digital platform—that support teachers and learners in addressing the influence of social media on food choices through critical thinking, respect and inclusion. In this newsletter, we'll share project updates, introduce our activities and keep you informed about the resources that will soon become available.

Partners meeting in Ljubljana

On 7–8 July 2026, the ETI_CHEF partners met in Ljubljana, Slovenia, kindly hosted by BIC Ljubljana, for the project's second Transnational Project Meeting. Following the kick-off meeting in Italy, this was a valuable opportunity to meet again, review the progress made so far and coordinate the next stages of the project. During the two-day meeting, partners worked together on the development of the ETI_CHEF Manifesto, the Educational Workshops, the Virtual Escape Room and the Digital Platform. Beyond the working sessions, the meeting offered a great opportunity to exchange ideas, strengthen our collaboration and continue working together towards the shared goal of creating innovative educational resources for teachers and learners across Europe.
